Notts Forest in Cup Final

Crossan Comes Close In Norwich City Tie

By ALAN FOTHERINGHAM

LONDON (Reuters) — Canadian Errol Crossan came within inches of creating English soccer history Saturday as amazing Norwich City tied Luton Town 1-1 in the Football Association Cup semi-final.

The rightwinger from New Westminster Royals had a goal disallowed because of an infraction by another forward and brought thunderous applause with a lightning-quick header that just skimmed the Luton crossbar.

Six inches lower and Crossan's scoring attempt would have made Norwich the first Third Division team to reach the cup final and Crossan would have been the first Canadian to play in the May classic at Wembley Stadium.

Crossan quickly established himself as Norwich's chief weapon with his dazzling runs down the right wing at the Tottenham Hotspur ground in north London.

Norwich fed the ball to the speedy winger when it became clear he could easily beat the Luton left-fullback, Ken Hawkes.

Four times in the first 20 minutes Norwich was awarded free kicks for fouls on Crossan.

Luton captain Syd Owen then put left-halfback Dave Pacey on Crossan. Left-wing Tony Gregory also dropped back and helped Pacey as Crossan was brought more under control in the second half.

As Norwich and Luton battled to a tie, classy Nottingham Forest moved into the final with a 1-0 win over Aston Villa in the other semi-final.

LONGSHOT

Norwich City, a 2,000-to-1 outsider when the cup competition began last September, now will try again against Luton Town next Wednesday in Birmingham.

Wednesday's winner will oppose Nottingham Forest May 2 at Wembley Stadium for the top prize in English soccer.

Norwich City, which subdued such soccer giants as Manchester United, Tottenham Hotspur and Sheffield United in earlier cup rounds, had to come from behind in the second half to gain Saturday's tie.

MORE POWER

Luton Town, with more power up front and a firm halfback line, had enough chances to clinch a victory in the first half. As it was, Luton Town led only 1-0 through a goal scored on a header by inside right Allan Brown after 35 minutes.

Then came the Norwich revival, with leftwing Bobby Brennan equalizing at 66 minutes with a hard drive from 15 yards out after Luton's defence had taken a hammering.

PLAYED STRONGER

At Sheffield, Aston Villa played the stronger soccer and appeared for a time likely to reach the cup final for the 10th time. But Nottingham Forest never abandoned its precision-passing game and gained the winning goal in the 65th minute.

In regular league games, Wolverhampton Wanderers maintained their one-point lead over Manchester United in the English League First Division with a 3-0 win over Birmingham. Manchester United toppled West Bromwich Albion, 3-1.

Retiring Batsman Stops N.Z. Collapse

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (Reuters) —A fine innings of 61 by lefthander Bert Sutcliffe, playing in his last test match, Saturday saved New Zealand from collapse in the second test against England.

Sutcliffe announced his retirement before going out to bat in a near gale when New Zealand had lost their first three wickets for 11 runs after winning the toss.

Two hours and 35 minutes later he was cheered all the way back to the pavilion after taking part in a sixth-wicket stand of 57 with John Sparling and collecting seven fours and one six.

New Zealand, who lost the first test by an innings and 99 runs, fielded the same team and was all out for 181 at 20 minutes before close of play. The English MCC touring side was 0 for 0 when stumps were drawn.

Play ended five minutes early because of bad light.

Rain, which fell until 2½ hours before play, held off for most of the day and there were only a few drops in the last half hour.

Like Overnight Race

National's Glory Fading

LONDON (AP)—British horse race experts reckon the Aintree Grand National steeplechase, due to be run next Saturday for the 113th time, is like the old grey mare—"She ain't what she used to be."

"Judging from the quality of this year's entry it might be a £500 ($2,400) overnight race at some obscure meeting in mid-week," wrote one critic of the famed Aintree race.

Such critics of the world-renowned four-mile 856-yard race over 30 obstacles argue that owners no longer are ready to risk their class horses in such a race. They prefer to send them to other meetings for smaller prizes—but with a greater chance of success.

The 37 horses eligible for this year's National may lack the quality expected of National jumpers—but pro-Grand National fans say that even the lack of quality can never rob the race of its appeal. For them the Aintree race is the greatest steeplechase in the world.

Millions of fans in Britain have never seen a race course. But the Grand National is one of the two races in the year on which they have a bet. The other is the Epsom Derby.

British bettors try to couple the winners of the Grand National and the Lincolnshire Handicap in the spring double—a bet in which all the winnings from one race go on the bettor's choice in the next race.

The first Irish sweepstakes of the season are based on the Aintree race. The National will be worth a record $40,588 to the winner.

Mr. What, last year's winner by a runaway 30 lengths, has been established pre-race favorite with betting odds varying from 10 to 1 to 8 to 1. Mr. What will be carrying 17 more pounds than when he won last year. He's due to haul 163 pounds.

British bookies make Slippery Serpent, Done Up, Nic Atkins and Oxo next in the betting to Mr. What. Tiberetta, Green Drill and Wynburgh, the three who followed Mr. What last year, also are well favored.

The 37 final acceptors are: Kerstin, Mr. What, Done Up, Top Twenty, John Jacques, Oxo, Wyndburgh, Slippery Serpent, Mainstown, Cannobie Lee, Tiberetta, Mr. Gay, Dondrosa, Glorious Twelfth, Green Drill, Armorial, Irish Coffee, Eternal, Vigor, Pintail, Oscar Wilde, Surprise Packet, Valient, Spark, Soltown, Pippykin, Kilballyown, A. Richardstown, Stop List, Turmoil, Nic Atkins, Sundawn, Belsize, Eagle Lodge, Southerntown, Royal Tournament, The Crofter and Henry Purcell.

Second Title Defence For Hogan Bassey

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria risks his featherweight title for the second time Wednesday night in a 15-round fight with Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio.

The little Nigerian won the championship when he whipped Cherif Hamia in Paris in 1957.

And last April 1 here he strengthened his rule over the world's 126-pounders with a spectacular three-round knockout over the dangerous puncher from Mexico, Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno.

Moore, at 24, two years younger than the champion, has won 13 straight fights, dating back to 1957. He capped his drive toward a championship encounter when e blasted Moreno out in one round here last Dec. 11.

Bassey remains a close favorite in pre-fight betting. But Moore might climb into the Olympic Auditorium ring at even money in the televised battle. ABC does the TV, starting at 7 p.m., PST.
